DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at night unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you?

If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that danger at bay. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 95 percent of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.

G. S. Crisp, M.D., Sec. of Mount Union, Huntington, Pa. (Box 221) writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent that I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a silvery yellow water. A physician told me I had in form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, acidosis of the liver, and a stomach, throat and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better but it did not last. I then took using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicine using his Golden Medical Discovery, and the Pleasant Peppermint, and in two months time I was feeling better than I had for many years. I am now a healthy man and I am very grateful to Dr. Pierce's medicine, recommended to me by 'The Stricken Rose From Grief'."

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would its grief be, if it discovered the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always repays the suffering; she is a veritable elixir of pleasure, rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the invincible power of science, the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

And C. Dieckman, of 193 Hendricks St., Detroit, Mich., writes: "I have always found relief from earache by using Hamlin's Wizard Oil." Price 50c and $1.00.

Uncertain Conditions in Russia.

The public's feeling of uneasiness has abated but little since the workmen's council in St. Petersburg, announced that the strike would end at noon yesterday, as it is realized that a new strike will be declared on the first plausible excuse.

The foreign consuls at Odessa are advising that women and children leave the city. The British women and children will leave this week. The situation is most threatening and there are evidences of mutiny among the troops.

The members of the British colony at Odessa held a conference yesterday under the presidency of the consul and arranged at the first sign of disorder to assemble at the consulate and demand that the Russian authorities send a guard of soldiers to the consulate. If this is refused the male members of the British colony will organize an armed bodyguard and escort the colony on board British vessels, which will be held in readiness in the harbor. The British consul applied for a collective passport for the entire British colony. The American, Austrian and Italian colonies propose to take the same measure.

Leaders of the "Reds" say they will now devote their energies to the preparation of a universal political strike to sustain the revolutionary programme when the national assembly meets. These plans, which were suddenly upset by the precipitation of the railroad strike last month, are exceedingly ambitious, involving the co-operation not only of the workmen of the cities but the peasantry, and, if possible, the army and navy.

The propaganda among the soldiers and sailors will be pushed energetically. The leaders already claim that they have organized the peasantry in five districts of Karkoff province, the peasants having agreed not to work for the landlords when the strike is called.

They anticipate that the famine which is at the doors of almost 15,000,000 peasants of the central province, according to estimates, will prove an effective ally of the agitation, as they can promise to give the peasants land to an unlimited extent.

The plague which is moving northward from the Kirghiz Steppe, it is not stamped out in the Vistula region, may also be made to serve the purpose of arousing the ignorant and superstitious peasants. The leaders will urge the proletariat everywhere to secure arms and prepare to fight for their rights.

It is significant that a delegate to the Zemstvo who presented himself as the representative of the Jewish population of Vilna, Lithuania, was excluded. Many liberals in St. Petersburg believe that the Congress is sure to result in a split and that the radical wing, standing on its insistence upon a constituent assembly and universal suffrage, will refuse all connection with the government.

The plan loudly discussed by the extremists a fortnight ago of turning the Congress into a constituent assembly appears to have fallen through.

While no further information has been received regarding the false emperor, who was said to be marching at the head of thousands of peasants in the province of Lenza, the turbulence there has become so threatening that the government has placed the province in a state of siege.

The Disaster in English Channel. One hundred and twenty-eight persons lost their lives in the wreck of the London and Southwestern Railway Company's steamer Hilda off the northern coast of France Saturday night, according to an official estimate given out last night in London by the officers of the company. This death-roll includes 21 saloon passengers, 80 French onion sellers and 27 of the crew.

James Gutter, the only member of the crew saved, says there was no panic on board. Attempts were made to lower the boats, but the rough sea rendered it impossible.

Gutter clung to the fittings of the top mast with nine others below him, including the chief mate and three Bretons, who died during the night of exposure.

The Hilda struck at 10 o'clock Saturday night. She was going very slowly at the time. Rockets were sent up, but there was no response. Seven minutes later the ship broke amidships and her Terrific Race With Death. "Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph E. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of live trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began using Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store, price 50c.

Gowan's Pneumonia Cure

decks were swept bare, with the exception of the few survivors who clung to the mast. They were rescued by the steamer Ada at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, after having endured 12 hours of agony.

Owing to the rough sea, together with a thick snowstorm, the captain of the Hilda probably took the buoy light of the rocks for the St. Malo lighthouse. He gave signals, which were not seen by harbor employees, and then the steamer proceeded slowly toward the light.

When the Hilda struck the rocks the steamer's boiler exploded, giving the passengers no time to save their lives. The coast near St. Malo is covered with wreckage and some cattle. Two-thirds of the Hilda's passengers were French farmers returning to France with heavy sums in gold from the sale of their yearly harvest of onions and potatoes.

The others were English families who were going to spend the winter at Dinard. The wreck lies on the beach three miles off St. Malo, showing only her mainmast and forecastle.

A correspondent went to the scene on a government steamer with the local officials. They picked up five bodies which were entangled in the rigging of the Hilda. The bodies presented a dreadful spectacle, with arms and legs twisted in all directions and hands torn with desperate struggling.

Selects Bride For Her Duke.

The old Duchess of Devonshire continues her amazingly plucky fight against neuritis, which is steadily growing worse and is now affecting her heart. She sturdily opposed the Duke's suggestion that she countermand her big horse party at Chatsworth for the Derby races this week, though quite unable to go to the race track herself.

The Duchess of Connaught, who was among her guests, was appalled when she saw her hostess and desired to leave immediately, considering it unkind to impose the duty of entertaining on one so desperately ill, but was persuaded that nothing would hurt the Duchess more, and the only real kindness of her now was to humor her fancy for discharging the duties of grande dame to the last.

The most extraordinary feature of her case is her anxiety that the Duke should marry again. In her circle it is freely rumored that she has made him solemnly promise he would marry Miss Muriel Wilson, whose beauty and talents they both have long admired. The Duchess thinks the Duke should provide a direct heir for the title, which would be rather unfortunate for his nephew, Victor Cavendish, who has long been regarded as sure of the succession.
